Sub: Proposal for Organizing Two-Week Faculty Development Programme on

“Paradigm Shift in Higher Education Teaching: Vision 2030”

The Department of Management Studies proposes to organize a Two-week FDP on Paradigm Shift in Higher Education Teaching: Vision 2030 during July 2019.

1.Preamble:The last decade has witnessed vast changes in higher education system in the country. The curricula have been improved by the universities to meet the expectations of the stake holders in the field of higher education. In spite of this the pace of adaptability of the teaching fraternity to these changes needs greater impetus. The revolution in the field of technology and management demands updating of teaching pedagogy in the various fields of higher education to suit the needs of current requirements. Unless the teachers prepare themselves to meet these challenges, the higher education in the coming years may not be as effective as expected by the stakeholders. Hence, a two-week faculty development program focusing on shift in higher education teaching is envisaged.

2. Objectives

To provide a platform for disseminating demands, possibilities, processes and mechanisms, tools and techniques of teaching-learning higher education, for preparing the teachers to understand, appreciate and adapt to paradigm shift in higher education in the next one decade.

3. Participants Teachers and research scholars in the field of Engineering, Management, Commerce and Social Science disciplines

4. Faculty Development Programme sub-themes:

- Pedagogical Changes in Higher Education
- Higher Education and Technology usage
- Creativity and Original Thinking in Higher Education
- Teaching Innovation in Higher Education
- Nurturing Entrepreneurial Culture through Higher Education

Per [Signature]

- Inter-Discipline Approach in Higher Education
- Student Mentoring in Higher Education
- Assessment and Accreditation of Higher Education programs
- Outcome Based Education – Challenges
- New Education Policy - Imperatives
- Higher Education and Work Life Balance
