The technical talk program began with welcome of all the dignitaries and participants and a brief introduction about the resource person Dr. Jalesh Kumar, Professor, Dept. of CSE, JNNCE. by Dr. Poornima K M, Prof and Head, Dept of, CS&E, JNNCE at 3.00 PM in the presence of Research Scholars and Faculty members of JNNCE. The session began with basics of paper publications and hurdles in publishing papers in reputed journal and in peer reviewed journal which includes the quality of journals (e.g., rank, impact factor), guidelines, submission, review and publication processes, article processing charge (APC), scopes, editorial and review board oversight. The session continued with discussion about the most common complications related to the type and quality of the journals, journal selection and intricacy in article submission, review and publication processes, complexity in linguistic, referencing, plagiarism and charges (including APC), biased attitudes of the journal, impact complications, and copyright permission rules. The Speaker also talked about how to understand the quality of a research publication which is usually depends on the researcher, research institute, research facilities along the writing quality of the authors. Resource person also highlighted about Journal Selection, Article submission, Review process, Publication process and publication of a research paper in an appropriate journal which is a matter of utmost importance as it is also imperative for researchers to make field-specific publications. That is, researchers should publish in standard journals based on their work experience and professional demands.

Technical talk also focused on Linguistic complexity, Referencing, Plagiarism, Impact complications and Copyright permission. Technical talk on Indexed Publications covered most important concepts of paper publication. Session was concluded by answering queries of research scholars, followed by thanksgiving by Mr. Sathyanarana S Assistant Prof, Dept. of CS&E, JNNCE who also the coordinator of the event.

Thus, session was attended by over 60 participants from JNNCE. The feedback from participants taken and issued e-Certificate. Point at the fact that many research scholars were inspired by the talk and have shown interest in publishing papers in reputed journals. They have indicated that they were motivated and benefited by the expert.
