Dear Sir,

Sub: Letter of Appreciation

On behalf of the department and myself, I thank you for delivering the webinar on "Advanced C" for students of 4th semester, Dept. of CS & E, on 26/08/2021. The feedback from students points at the fact that they gained and extended knowledge about C constructs and found logic building interesting.

Thank you for taking out time to share our knowledge with students.

Thanking You,

Dr. K. M. Poornima

Proceedings of Webinar on “Advanced C ”

Date:
26th August 2021

Resource Person: Mr. PRAJWAL M DIXIT
Mysterio C finalist
Participants: Students of B.E (CSE) 4th semester

The webinar began with welcome and a brief introduction about the session by Mr. Chakapani D S, Asst. Prof, CS&E at 10.30 AM. The session included a series of programming based MCQ questions on Advanced C. The resource person explained solutions for each question. He explained in detail how to arrive at the solution. The questions had code segments with advanced C constructs. The resource person first revised basic constructs used, then explained about Advanced constructs before arriving at the right solutions. He also informed about common traps in these questions and mistakes students do in comprehending them. The activity was conducted to aid students in understanding placement related coding-based questions. The session was concluded by answering queries of students, followed by thanksgiving by Dr. Sankhya N Nayak.

This, webinar was attended by over 65 students from 4th semester. The feedback from students points at the fact that they gain additional knowledge in C compared to Curriculum and have shown interest in attending more such webinars.
